

TO ATTACK LADYSMITH

The Burghers Thought To Be Gathering in Large Force for the Purpose.

BOERS MOVING NORTH

Whereabouts of Gen. Joubert and His Army a Mystery to the British.

FEART THAT NINTH LANCERS HAVE BEEN CAPTURED.

The Boer Forces Have Been Withdrawn from South Natal and Gathered at Wenen, Northwest of the Mooi River, at Which Point, a General Boer Concentration Seems to be Taking Place—Defeat for the Transvaal Army Reported by Gen. Methuen on the Modder River.

London, Nov. 27.—[Special Cablegram]—A message from Ladysmith says a combined attack of the concentrated Boers on that town is expected. The garrison believes that this is the only explanation of the complete withdrawal

BOERS ASK FOR DIVINE HELP

Impressive Scene When the Republicans Crossed the Frontier.
Cape Town, Nov. 27.—A correspondent who was in northern Natal when Gen. Joubert and the main army of the Boers crossed the frontier says that when the burghers crossed the boundary the general called a halt and in accordance with an old Boer custom called for the "kerkleur." Every man of those mounted irregulars slid from his horse and uncovered. Then all knelt on the veldt while the chaplain fervently invoked the divine blessing on the invasion and the divine aid in fighting for the independence of the fatherland. It was the most impressive scene, the correspondent says, he ever saw in his life.

GREETING BY KAISER

Token of the Emperor's Love For the Men Who Fought in Wars of the Fatherland.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—[The German emperor rejoices that the men of German birth who have settled in the United States are such good American citizens. He wishes them to show all their German virtues in their new home. The United States is bound close to Germany by ties of common descent, and the two nations are knit today in an intimate friendship. The emperor rejoices in the well being of those who have emigrated from his land.]
This was the message which Dr. von Hohenhausen, the German ambassador to the United States, brought from Emperor William to German citizens of Chicago yesterday. He had come from Washington to present to the Central Association of German Military Societies in Chicago a banner which Emperor William had made expressly for it, a banner on which was the motto, "With God for the Kaiser and the Fatherland."

KEMPTON'S SERMON WAS FOR MEN ONLY

Baptist Divine Preaches on the Relative Position of Men and Women.

IS A DIVINE RELATION

Its Widespread Disregard in Janesville and All Over the World.

This Curse of Man Has Been Present in All Ages Past as Well as Now—Scarlet Adventuress Has Conquered Kings and Potentates—If Woman Is Branded Let the Man Be Branded Also—Petition to City Authorities to Abolish This and Other Evils

Six hundred men assembled at the Baptist church last evening and heard Rev. Arthur O. Kempton preach on "Licentiousness." Four hundred men there and then signed printed slips in the form of a petition to the mayor, the common council and the police, requesting that every means be empowered to enforce the laws regarding the closing of saloons, the prevention of public gambling rooms and the prohibition of houses of ill fame.

The sermon last evening was for men only. Long before the hour of service every seat in the church was occupied, and chairs were placed in the aisles.

Rev. Kempton's subject was "Licentiousness," the fourth in his series upon the "Sins of Janesville."

The music was by the Y. M. C. A. brass band quartette. Prof. W. A. Row, cell sang a solo.

Most Pure Relationship.

Rev. Mr. Kempton based his thoughts upon the words of the Savior: "Blessed are the pure of heart." He said:

"The relation of man and woman is a divine relation. It is from a woman that he receives his life, the best things in his whole existence. The most pure and spotless relationship in life, is that of husband and wife. The relationship that man sustains to woman, is the greatest blessing God can give man. But these pure blessings can be turned to man's greatest curse. This curse of man has been present with man. The scarlet woman can look back over history and see that she has conquered kings and men of the greatest ability that the world has ever seen."

"While the condition of this world in this respect is better than it ever was before, it is a sad fact that it is everywhere prevalent. In New York city alone there are 75,000 fallen women. In our own little city there are four or five houses with from two to five women in them that is bringing the curse of God upon us. Who supports them, for they always have money to purchase what they want?"

Brand the Man Also.

"Men with families are guilty of this sin and are yet invited into the best of society. Why not invite the partner of his crimes to go with him. If we brand the woman let us brand the man also. If there is no hell for these men there has been a colossal mistake in God's universe."

"I plead that you will keep your minds pure. It is your own safety. I plead with you that you choose good associates, those who will not lead you into vice."

"I plead for a white life for two. There is no double standard in God's law."

"Once lose your purity and you can never be the man that you might otherwise have been. I plead with you to be chivalrous and protect the weak. Help the downfallen and do not push them down farther. I ask you, not to make new laws, but to use your influence to have our laws that are now being so ruthlessly broken, enforced."

Not a City of Moral Cowards

"I have been told that this is a city of moral cowards. I do not believe it."

The preacher then cautiously touched upon various and singular sins in connection with his theme as practiced and indulged in by all sinful men in all countries and climes and warned his hearers of the dreadful results of such practices.

In conclusion Mr. Kempton read from a slip which contained a petition to the Janesville authorities requesting the use of every means in their power to enforce the laws now in existence regarding the vices he has been preaching against. He asked that every man who was willing to sign such a petition to stand on his feet. Nearly every man in that vast audience arose with alacrity. After the services on being given an opportunity some 400 men signed the petition.

SEVEN AMERICAN CAPTIVES FREE

Gen. MacArthur Has Occupied Mangataram West of Bayombong.

FOUR TRAITORS THERE

American Deserters Are Acting with the Insurgents as Officers.

Rebels in the West Are Still Retreating Before MacArthur—Spanish Prisoners Released Arrive at Manila—Great Amount of Valuable Property Seized from the Insurgents—Problem of What To Do with Aguinaldo if Taken.

Manila, Nov. 27.—[Special Cablegram]—Gen. MacArthur has occupied Mangataram, west of Bayombong. Seven Americans who were captives were released. They are O. L. Powers, gunboat Urdaneta; B. J. Green, sailor; Edwards and Green, Sixteenth Infantry; James, Twelfth Infantry; Desmond, signal corps; Fred Huber, scout. Three other Americans escaped from the Philippines at the same time and are expected to reach the American lines shortly.

The escaped prisoners say that four American deserters are with the Filipinos. They are Howard, Ford and Martin of the California regiment and Watts, whose regiment is not known. Howard commands the insurgent artillery.

The insurgents on the west are still retreating from Gen. MacArthur, and dragging their guns into the mountains. Alexandrino commands them. Maj. Bell is in pursuit.

Much Rebel Property Captured.

The one hundred and fifteen Spanish prisoners whom Lawton, Young and Wheaton released, arrived here on a steamer from San Fabian, which also brought $75,000 of insurgent money and much rebel property captured.

Wheaton's troops near Mangataram seized five three inch muzzle loader, twelve rifles, twelve thousand of Maxim cartridges, one thousand shrapnell, eight hundred pounds of powder and much other property.

Aguinaldo is heading for Bangued, east of Vagiana.

South of Manila as well as north the insurgent commands are disintegrating.

Guerrilla Fighting Begins

Yesterday four men of Company D, Ninth Infantry, were foraging beyond Bumban when twenty Filipinos took them in ambush, killing one and capturing the other three. The Americans resisted for half an hour. The firing being heard at Bumban, Lieutenant Fraser, with a squad, followed the retreating Filipinos several miles. The Americans found the body of the soldier who had been killed. They burned the hamlet where the fight took place.

Three Filipino riflemen ambushed an American surgeon near Ocapas. He shot one and the others fled.

Between Bumban and Angeles a mule train was fired upon by the insurgents and a Spaniard, a former prisoner of the Filipinos, who was with the train, was shot.

At Malasqui the officials who welcomed the Americans were murdered. This was the only railroad town which the Americans did not garrison.

Surrendered to the Troops

Washington, Nov. 27.—[Special Cablegram]—Gen. Otis cables to the war department this morning and says that the rebels in Zamboanga surrendered to the troops, while Commander Very of the navy in yesterday's report said the surrender was made to the navy.

Should Aguinaldo Be Captured.

Considerable interest is being taken in official circles here as to the disposition of Aguinaldo in case he is captured. Many think the best solution would be his death but such action is not expected. Should the rebel leader escape to Hong Kong, the United States would not as a matter of right ask for his surrender, and the president would doubtless determine to leave him alone. The policy of the government will doubtless take into consideration the effect of his disposition upon the natives.

BAILEY TO SUPPORT BANKHEAD

Texas Favors the Alabama Candidate for the Minority Leadership.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 27.—J. W. Bailey announces that he will support Bankhead of Alabama for the leadership of the minority in congress as long as the latter is in the race. He predicts that there will be a deadlock after Bankhead withdraws, and will then throw his influence to S. W. T. Lanham of Texas. Mr. Lanham is from the Eighth Texas district and a close personal friend of Bailey. Mr. Bailey says Lanham would be very acceptable to the different democratic factions.

A GREAT RELIGIOUS REVIVAL

Pastors of Many of the Churches in Chicago Will Unite

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Commencing next week one of the greatest religious revival meetings Chicago has ever known will be started, and for the next five weeks the pastors and their churches will devote nearly all their time to a concerted evangelization of the city and the reawakening in an extensive way of its spiritual life. One remarkable feature of the coming revival is that the great work is to be undertaken regardless of denomination, and all will work together for a common end.

M'KINLEY HIS FRIEND

Admiral Dewey Denies Having Any Presidential Boom—Talks With President Today.

Washington, Nov. 27.—[Special Telegram]—After calling upon the president at the white house today, Admiral Dewey chatted freely, saying:

"I want to see McKinley take a second term for president. He is a good friend of mine and I don't want to hear of anyone attempting to rob him of his place. I shall never cease to thank him for the cheering noble messages he sent me while at Manila. I shall keep them as long as I live. No! No! No!" he exclaimed in answer to a question, "I have no presidential boom or anything of that sort. I think those so-called heroes of battle make mighty poor presidents."

PREPARING TO FIGHT FOR CUBAN INDEPENDENCE

Over 1,000 Cuban Insurgents Have Taken to the Woods in Pinar del Rio and Again Raised the Standard of Rebellion on the Cuban Island.

Havana, Nov. 27.—[Special Cablegram]—It is reported that a thousand Cuban insurgents have taken to the woods in the province of Pinar del Rio and are preparing to fight for Cuban independence, which they believe is in jeopardy.

The report causes the greatest excitement here, where anti-American sentiment is inflamed by the talk of a civil government being established by the United States.

The uprising against the Americans is said to be planned for Thanksgiving day. The Seventh cavalry and the Eighth infantry have received orders what to do in case of an outbreak.

DEPOT AT LODI BURNS

Chicago & Northwestern Building in That Town Entirely Consumed by Fire.

Baraboo, Nov. 27.—[Special Telegram]—From some unknown cause fire originated in the Chicago & Northwestern freight warehouse at Lodi last night and burned both freight and passenger depots. All was consumed except the records. The loss on freight was considerable.

FORECAST OF WEATHER

Chicago, Nov. 27.—[Special Telegram]—The forecast for Wisconsin is as follows:
Fair tonight and Tuesday.

INTEREST IN HAVANA STORY

Reported Investigation of Maine Plot Not Known at Washington.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Some interest was created in official circles here, particularly among naval officers, by the publication of the results of what purported to be a secret investigation regarding the destruction of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor, which the story said, was blown up by gun-cotton torpedoes planted in the bay for that purpose. Diligent inquiry, however, fails to show that any official investigation has been made at the direction of the authorities here, although it is suggested that the officials at Havana have discretionary powers to make an investigation should they see fit, and that it is just barely possible that as a result of such action some additional information bearing on the subject has been secured.

ARE OPPOSED TO A TREATY.

German Conservative Press Takes a Bold Stand.

Bremen, Nov. 27.—The liberal press of Bremen on Saturday reported that the government of Germany desired again to take up negotiations for the drafting of an acceptable commercial treaty with the United States. The conservative press denies the accuracy of this declaration. The denial is not only editorial, but it is printed in the most prominent place in bold-face type and otherwise displayed.

The ladies of All Souls church will hold their annual Christmas market Saturday, Dec. 2.

CHAS. TERWILLIGER COMMITS SUICIDE

Town of Bradford Farmer Cuts the Artery in His Left Arm.

HE FEARED A LAW SUIT

Suicide's Remains Found by a Brother in the Grain Bin.

Sometime During the Night the Suicide Went to the Barn After Dressing Himself—Took Along a Razor, With Which He Committed the Deed—Was a Well Known and Popular Farmer—Coroner's Jury Summoned.

Clinton, Wis., Nov. 27.—[Special Telegram]—Lifeless and cold, lying stretched out on his back in a bin of corn meal, members of the family found Charles Terwilliger at an early hour this morning at his home on the old Van-Tassel farm in the town of Bradford.

It needed but a glance to reveal the fact that it was a case of suicide for the man's left arm was bared and a cut showed where the large vein had been opened and death had resulted from bleeding.

An old razor lay on some bags standing near the bin and blood was spattered and smeared over the bags and floor of the small room in the cow barn which contained the bin.

The dead man had evidently drawn the razor across his arm after entering the room and when becoming weak from the loss of blood, crawled over in the bin to die.

His brother, Eugene Terwilliger, says that he heard Charley leave the house between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning but thought nothing about it and went to sleep again. At half past four o'clock when he arose and went to the barn to do chores he found that Charley was already there for the lantern was burning. The thought then flashed across his mind for the first time that something might be wrong for he recollected that his brother got up in the night and left the house. He soon discovered the spattered blood in the meal room and looking over in he saw the body lying as described.

The appearance of the corpse indicated that the dead man had dressed hastily in his working clothes. His vest was unbuttoned and his shoes not buckled. He had taken off his coat and hung it up in the barn.

Deceased was well known in Rock county and is a man fifty years of age. He was unmarried and lived with his mother and brother. He was also a brother of Jerome Terwilliger, who lives on the Chesebro farm.

The only cause assigned as the reason for committing the rash deed is that the deceased worried over trouble he had with a neighbor a week ago Friday night in which fists were used. The assault and battery case in which he was the complainant was to have come before Justice Cronkrite at Clinton at 8 o'clock this morning.

When the news of the suicide reached Clinton Justice Cronkrite immediately repaired to the scene and summoned a jury for the purpose of holding an inquest. George Covert was called to examine the body and testify. The inquest was held this afternoon.

Charles Coghlan Dead.

Galveston, Nov. 27.—[Special Telegram]—Charles Coghlan, the actor, who has been ill here since October 30, died this morning.

TO RID THE CITY OF VICE

The following petition was presented by the Rev. Mr. Kempton to his great congregation last night and was signed by 400 men. The petition is in circulation and is being signed by a large number of business men and order loving citizens:

To the Mayor, the Council and the Police of Janesville:

Gentlemen:—With malice toward none, with charity for all, we, the undersigned citizens of Janesville, do earnestly request you to use every means in your power to enforce the laws upon our statute books regarding the following:

1. The Sunday closing of saloons.
2. The 11:00 p. m. closing of saloons.
3. The prevention of public gambling rooms.
4. The prohibition of houses of ill-fame.

of the Boers from their southern positions. Gen. Hilyard is now repairing the railroad station at Frere. He is said to have ten thousand men with him. Gen. Joubert's whereabouts is unknown.

Later advice regarding the position of the Ninth lancers sent to cut-off the Boer retreat from Gras Pan has not been received. The pessimistic suggestion made that they met the same fate that the Eighteenth lancers at Dundee met, is met with the argument that Gen. Methuen is not apt to report their movements unless they fail to return. It appears that the battle at Graspan was less decisive than the Belmont battle a few days ago.

Concentrating at Wenen

London, Nov. 27.—[Special Cablegram]—A Pietmaritzburg dispatch says that the Boer forces have withdrawn from South Natal and are gathered at Wenen, northwest of the Mooi river. Another captured Boer dispatch says that the Belmont command has left the hills around Ladysmith also for Wenen and Greytown. Both places are of great advantage to the Boers in any attempt to attack from the flank by the British for the relief of Ladysmith.

Captured Honey Nest Kloop

Cape Town, Nov. 27.—[Special Cablegram]—Gen. Methuen reported having captured Honey Nest Kloop and has seized two million rounds of ammunition.

Hard Fighting Ahead.

London, Nov. 27.—The chief news beyond Gen. Lord Methuen's second battle, which foreshadows hard fighting before Kimberley is relieved, is the opening of telegraphic and railway communication from Estcourt southward. The correspondents agree that Gen. Joubert is retiring toward Colenso and Ladysmith, though it would be unsafe to assume that the relieving troops will advance to Colenso without opposition.

It is officially announced that there are no Boers south of the Mooi river, while on Saturday 200 mounted men, the Second Devonshire regiment and the Welsh fusiliers, reached the Mooi river through Estcourt.

M'KINLEY IS PLEASED

Unconditional Surrender of the Mindanao Islands Announced.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Secretary of the Navy Long today received a cablegram from Admiral Watson informing him that the entire province of Zamboanga, island of Mindanao, had surrendered unconditionally to Commander Very of the Castine. The surrender was made on the 18th instant. Admiral Watson's dispatch which was dated Cavite, Nov. 26, 1899, was as follows:

"On Nov 18 entire province of Zamboanga surrendered to Very unconditionally. Delivery of all guns promised. Numerous local chiefs declared loyalty." The information contained in Admiral Watson's dispatch was received by the president and his advisors with unqualified satisfaction. The surrender of the province of Zamboanga is regarded as the beginning of the end of the Revolution in the island of Mindanao.

THANKSGIVING DAY THE BEST HOME DAY

TOO MUCH ATTEMPT TO FORCE RELIGION BY STATUTE.

Gratitude is of the Heart and Not of the Lips—Religious Emotions Cannot Be Legislated—Thanksgiving Sermon by Rev. Mr. Wilson of All Souls Church, Yesterday.

Rev. A. G. Wilson gave his Thanksgiving sermon yesterday morning at All Souls church. Following is a part of the sermon:

"Of all the days this is the best home day and that makes it the most genuinely religious day, when the absent ones will come again to the paternal roof and the old memories will be revived, and affections' ties knit over again.

"But how shall we make it a Thanksgiving day? For what be thankful and to whom? Well, I think it is not possible to be thankful by merely claiming to be so. Gratitude is of the heart and not of the lips. Proclamations issued by the president and governors do not make us thankful. We cannot legislate the religious emotions into the human heart. There has been too much attempt to force religion by statute. It has never succeeded.

Proclamations are good to call the people to a united purpose, but the individual soul alone is capable of rendering thanksgiving. God is not influenced by great crowds or eloquent sermons that recount how good and great he is. Whoever would find God must go alone. Meditation and the cultivation of the appreciative spirit is the soul of gratitude.

"Some people are like the foliage plant. They never flower out. Never look up with radiant face to greet the sunshine and the air. Always carry the same exterior amid sunshine and shadow. The man with the appreciative spirit is both the happy and the thankful man. We have not learned the art of happy living until we glorify the common place, and find in every experience a cause of gratitude. It may be but the fragrance of a flower; the beauty of the grass; the touch of the wind upon our face; the laughter of gleeful childhood; the companionship of friends.

"The world is poorly spent because there are so many unappreciated things. Blind to the beauties at our feet, we see only the distant mountains and the stars. 'The distance is the door.' We are poor appraisers. Our ideas of value are unjust. We list some things too high and estimate others too low. We make too much difference between foreign and domestic values. If we will make out a new schedule of values and prize things at their actual worth, most of us would find ourselves richer than we thought.

"Not every man may be grateful today for the revelations of his balance sheet. But this does not touch his life as a man. This is the basis of the hog market. What is the commercial value of a man? Simply what he has to sell, whether it be his brain, his skill, his muscle or his dollars. That is all. A man in business is simply a part of a gigantic machinery to appropriate the wealth of nature and distribute it over the earth.

"But there is greater significance to a human life than this. For when you have paid the man for his merchandise, his skill or his money, you have not paid the full debt. Nobody can pay for ideas, for love, or for character in dollars and cents.

"Therefore, to whom shall we be thankful? With all reverence I say not to God directly, but to men and women who serve Him night and day. I am grateful to God for a world that holds such grand possibilities, and I am grateful to the men and women who have thought and worked them out. For all the noble workers of the past and present, we owe our tributes of praise to day; and this is not to withhold our praise from God, for the praise of virtue is the praise of God."

Gray Hairs Can be Deferred

Premature gray hairs usually are the effects of carelessness. If the scalp is kept free of dandruff and properly nourished and strengthened, gray hairs would be unusual before the age of forty or forty-five. There is no remedy in existence that will restore color to gray hairs; but the

Seven Sutherland Sisters'

Hair Grower and Scalp Cleaner, if applied according to directions contained in each package, will positively defer gray hairs until nature compels their appearance. There are thousands of American men and women who have revived the fading energies of their hair through the faithful use of these simple and natural remedies.

Town, city and village clerks should, therefore, omit from the tax-roll 1899 all property of express companies which may have been entered by the local board of assessors on his assessment roll, for the reason that the property of such companies is to be assessed by the state board of assessments.

KNOCKS OUT COUNTER CLAIM

Decision of Judge B. F. Dunwiddie In The Water Works Case.

Judge B. F. Dunwiddie has rendered his decision in the case of the Monroe water works case vs. the city of Monroe on the demurrer of the plaintiff to the defendant's counter claim on the ground that it did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action. The decision of the court sustains the demurrer. This demurrer was argued a week ago before Judge Dunwiddie at a special term of the Rock county circuit court and Burr W. Jones of Madison and C. W. Wright of this city appeared for the city and A. A. Jackson of Janesville, and P. J. Clawson of this city, represented the water company.

The groom gave his age as 45 years and the bride admitted to having existed in this mundane sphere for 29 years. They returned to Rockford this afternoon.

MURPHY LEAGUE DREW LARGE CROWD

MANY SPEAKERS TOOK PART IN PROGRAM.

Standing Room Was at a Premium When the Meeting Was Called to Order—William Dillon Among the Speakers—Four Hundred Tickets Have Been Sold for Concert.

Standing room was at a premium yesterday afternoon at the Francis Murphy Temperance League meeting. When the meeting was called to order the two rooms occupied by the League were found too small to hold the assembled throng.

The meeting was full of interest from start to finish, the many speakers dealing with the ruinous work of liquor as they found it today in the city of Janesville. William Dillon was among the speakers. He said that for fifteen years he had been a hard drinker, but with the help of God he intended to reform and be a man.

Rev. W. W. Woodside and Dr. Roberts gave interesting short talks on the liquor question. Among the other speakers were Fred Holden, Al. Smith, J. H. Jones and William Smith. Mrs. Minnie Menzies sang a solo that was well rendered.

LATE NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

OPPOSE BRITISH ADVANCE.

Boers Continue to Harass the Kimberley Relief Column.

ANOTHER BATTLE FOUGHT.

Gen. Methuen Defeats the Enemy in an Action Near Graspan—Loss on Both Sides Believed to Be Heavy—British Carry the Heights.

London, Nov. 27.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Gen. Sir Frederick Forester-Walker, dated Cape Town, Nov. 26, 12:20 p. m.: "Gen. Lord Methuen reports that he moved yesterday, Nov. 25, at 3:30 a. m., with the Ninth brigade, the mounted corps and the naval brigade, the guards following with the baggage. A force of 2,500 Boers, with six guns, including two machine guns, opposed him near Graspan.

"The action commenced at 6 a. m. The batteries fired shrapnel very accurately until the heights seemed clear. Then the naval brigade and infantry assaulted the position. The fighting was desperate until 10 a. m., when the heights were carried, the Boers retreating on a line where the Ninth lancers had been placed to intercept them. The result is unknown at the time of telegraphing. The artillery took immediate advantage of the enemy's retirement.

"Early in the action 500 Boers made an attack on the rear guard brigade. They met this and also protected the flanks. The naval brigade acted with the greatest gallantry and has suffered heavily. No particulars are yet known. The enemy showed the greatest stubbornness. They must have suffered heavily.

"Twenty have been buried. Thirty-one killed and forty wounded are known of. More than fifty horses were found dead in one place. One battery fired 500 rounds. The force must halt one day at Graspan to rest and replenish their ammunition. The force worked splendidly, and are prepared to overcome any difficulty. The naval brigade, Royal marines, Second Yorkshire light infantry, and First North Lancashire regiment especially distinguished themselves.

"Regarding Thursday's fight, eighty-one Boers were killed or otherwise accounted for; sixty-four wagons were burned and a large quantity of powder, 5,000 rounds of ammunition and 750 shells were blown up. Albrecht commanded the Boer artillery, and Delaraye was in chief command."

Full details of the losses on both sides have yet to be received, but the severity of the action at Graspan is shown in the fact that the British column had to retard its march for a day in order to give the men rest and replenish their supplies and ammunition.

One point of interest on this occasion is that the Boers, during some phase of the action, assumed the offensive, attacking the British on one of their flanks, in defending which the naval brigade lost heavily. No indication is given of the exact locality of the fight, but it does not appear to have been at a very great distance from the first battlefield of Wednesday, near Belmont.

From the description given in Gen. Methuen's dispatch to the British war office of the Boer resistance it is evident that they mean to dispute his advance step by step, while the silence as to his own losses, while speaking of those of the Boers, seems to indicate considerable loss on the British side.

The delay caused is naturally giving much anxiety in London, especially as the weather is making, which there now appears little hope of saving. There is even a fear that, should Gen. Methuen reach Kimberley, it might only be to fall into the same trouble in which Gen. White is in Ladysmith, the rising in Cape Colony having been so timed as to secure that result.

Full details of the numbers of British prisoners in the hands of the Boers are given up to Nov. 15, including those captured between Estcourt and Colenso on that day. They comprise 39 officers and 1,237 men, together with 62 others described as political prisoners. The total British losses, according to official statements, up to the same date, since the opening of the campaign on Oct. 15, are put down at 222 killed, 881 wounded and 1,676 missing, making the total loss from all causes 2,779. It will be noticed that there is a considerable discrepancy between the number of prisoners with the Boers and those reported to be missing, the difference being 400. As yet no account has been obtained as to their fate or whereabouts, and there is a good deal of anxiety at the British war office about them.

Troops Still Pouring In.
London, Nov. 27.—The troopship Medic arrived at Cape Town yesterday with the Australian contingents. The Pindari and the Idaho arrived there Saturday, bringing three batteries of artillery.

The Servia, with troops, has left Cape Town for Durban, and the transports Mohawk and Manchesterport have arrived at Durban.

The utmost activity prevails in getting war necessities ready for the front. Five thousand men worked all day yesterday at Woolwich arsenal preparing stores. The arsenal employees, now numbering 19,000, have been warned that they need not expect holidays at Christmas.

Boers Retire from Mooi.
Estcourt, Natal, Nov. 27.—Gen. Joubert, the Boer commander, is retiring from Mooi river in the direction of Ladysmith.

The Boers are trekking northward with wagons. Communication will be opened shortly. The Frere bridge will be repaired immediately. Important dispatches which were captured point to Boer difficulties. The enemy are disheartened and alarmed by the reinforcements pouring into Stormberg and Naauwpoort, their severe reverse at Belmont and the hard fighting at Ladysmith. An ambulance party reports seeing thirty graves that were dug by the enemy after the fighting here.

Defied the Kaiser's Orders.
Berlin, Nov. 27.—The Neuen Jahrbuch declares that some of the Prussian military officers who are fighting in South Africa for the Boers are doing so with full knowledge and in direct defiance of the Kaiser's prohibition. It is said that these officers had left their homes but were still in Europe when his majesty's edict reached them, but they paid no attention to the command, sailing immediately afterward.

Calls Enemy Cowardly.
Cape Town, Nov. 27.—The Cape Argus says: "Lord Methuen's letter to the Boer commander warned him that the British commander would not recognize anything but a fair flag of truce, adding: 'To put a white handkerchief on a rifle and to take advantage of your enemy is a cowardly action, which neither you nor I can countenance.'"

Boers Head for South.
Durban, Nov. 25.—Advices from Mooi river say that a Kaffir brought in yesterday asserts that Gen. Joubert and four sons, with a commando, are coming south. The Kaffir estimates the Boer strength at from 2,000 to 3,000 men. According to his story, the British smashed one or two of the enemy's big guns at Ladysmith.

Gen. Buller in Natal.
Pietermaritzburg, Nov. 27.—Gen. Buller arrived here Saturday night from Durban.

Telegraphic communication with Estcourt has been re-established.

I took different kinds of kidney remedies but they did not relieve me until I commenced to take Morrow's Kid-ne-oids. The sample package gave me such great relief that I purchased a box of Kid-ne-oids and I am being relieved of all my former troubles as rapidly as can be expected."

REBELS ARE SURRENDERING.

Entire Province of Zamboanga Is Given Up.

END OF FIGHTING VERY NEAR.

Officials at Washington Are Confident That the Revolution Is Practically Over—Guerrilla Warfare Carried On by Insurgents in Luzon.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Secretary of the Navy Long Sunday received a cablegram from Admiral Watson informing him that the entire province of Zamboanga, island of Mindanao, had surrendered unconditionally to Commander Very of the Castine. The surrender was made on the 18th inst.

The information contained in Admiral Watson's dispatch was received by the president and his advisers with unqualified satisfaction. The surrender of the province of Zamboanga is regarded as the beginning of the end of the revolution in the island of Mindanao, and it is believed, will be a hard blow to those who are still endeavoring to maintain the insurrection in the island of Luzon.

The war department has not been advised of the surrender of the province, as reported in Admiral Watson's dispatch. Secretary Root saying he had no news from Gen. Otis. Both secretaries Root and Long are elated over the information that the end of the insurrection in the Philippine islands is now near at hand.

Last Filipino Council.

Manila, Nov. 27.—The last Filipino council of war was held by the retreating leaders at Bayombong on Nov. 13, in the house now occupied by Gen. MacArthur. It was attended by Aguinaldo, Pio del Pilar, Garcia, Alejandro and some members of the so-called cabinet. Information has reached Gen. MacArthur from several sources to the effect that the council recognized the futility of attempting further resistance to the Americans with united forces, and agreed that the Filipino troops should scatter and should hereafter follow guerrilla methods.

Reports of ambushes and skirmishes come from every section of the country along the railroads. Those districts seem to be filled with small bands. Saturday four men of company D, Ninth infantry, were foraging beyond Bamban, when twenty Filipinos took them in ambush, killing one and capturing the other three. The Americans resisted for half an hour. The firing being heard at Bamban, Lieut. Frazer, with a squad, followed the retreating Filipinos several miles. The Americans found the body of the soldier killed. They burned the hamlet where the fight took place.

Three Filipino riflemen ambushed an American surgeon near Capas. He shot one and the others fled. Between Bamban and Angeles a mule train was fired upon by the insurgents, and a Spaniard, a former prisoner of the Filipinos, was shot. At Malasqui the officials who welcomed the Americans were murdered. This was the only railroad town which the Americans did not garrison, and on the night the troops withdrew, a band of insurgents entered, dragged Antonio Mejia, president of the town, into the street and cut his throat. The murderers then assassinated the vice-president and five members of the town council in the same manner, and told the frightened natives who witnessed the slaughter to spread the news that a similar fate awaited all friends of the Americans. The mayor of San Carlos, who rode in the carriage with Gen. MacArthur and Col. Bell when the Americans entered the town amid the cheers of the people, was murdered the next night.

Military activity continues in every section. Col. Bell's regiment has advanced from Bayombong to Mangataram, where it is supposed there is a large insurgent force. Two battalions of the newly-arrived Twenty-eighth infantry have been sent by caissons to Bacoor to re-enforce the south line.

Major Spence, with fifty men of the Thirty-second regiment, surrounded a village near Bautiston during the night and attacked the place at daybreak, capturing a Filipino captain and fifteen men, with seven rifles.

The latest news from Gen. Young is that there are ten cavalrymen and 200 Macabebes with him, most of the horsemen who started having been compelled to drop out because their horses failed them.

The Filipinos took the American prisoners from Victoria to San Carlos. On the walls of the Victoria prison and the San Carlos convent are the names of the unfortunate captives.

Says the War Will Continue.
Madrid, Nov. 27.—Senor Tomas Arejola, president of the Madrid Filipino committee, declares the information cable from Manila to Washington, and thence to this city, relative to the integration of the Tagal rebellion, is not well founded. The Tagals, he declares, will continue their resistance to American authority and will reassume the offensive—however quiet they may be in the meantime—on the beginning of the next rainy season.

Street-Car Bill Worked Aired.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 27.—Prosecuting Attorney Tuttle of Ingham county spent Sunday in this city investigating rumors of various alleged irregularities in connection with legislative matters. Any actual evidence which he may secure will be laid before the grand jury at Lansing, which has thus far returned four indictments. Gov. Pingree and others connected with the state administration were among Mr. Tuttle's visitors. Nothing is given out as to the result of these inquiries, but it is stated from Lansing that one of the matters to be looked into by the grand jury will be the methods by which the McLeod bill, authorizing the purchase of the Detroit street railways by a municipal commission, was enacted.

Bradley Arming His Followers.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 27.—Gov. Bradley is getting ready for the inauguration of W. S. Taylor on Dec. 12. He has reorganized the state guards, weeding out nearly all the Goebel men. In two instances he has mustered out entire companies. In the mountains the governor has enlisted hundreds of alleged fighting republicans and throughout the state he has caused republicans to join the force he is raising to maintain order in case the Goebel faction makes trouble. He expects to have 3,000 armed men by inauguration day. He will have three or four Gatling guns and several old-fashioned cannon.

Must Improve Italian Army.

Rome, Nov. 27.—During the discussion of the war budget in the chamber of deputies, Deputy Giolitti, the premier, inquired as to the truth of the statement that the government will ask for additional funds for the army. The war minister, Gen. Merri, replied that the changed conditions of armaments throughout all Europe imposed an increase for a few more years, principally to make the artillery equal to that of the other powers. The budget was approved.

How Mrs. Pinkham HELPED MRS. GOODEN.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 12,733]

"I am very grateful to you for your kindness and the interest you have taken in me, and truly believe your medicines and advice are worth more to a woman than all the doctors in the world. For years I had female troubles and did nothing for them. Of course I became no better and finally broke down entirely. My troubles began with inflammation and hemorrhages from the kidneys, then inflammation, congestion and falling of the womb and inflammation of ovaries.

"I underwent local treatment every day for some time; then after nearly two months the doctor gave me permission to go back to work. I went back, but in less than a week was compelled to give up and go to bed. On breaking down the second time, I decided to let doctors and their medicines alone and try your remedies. Before the first bottle was gone I felt the effects of it. Three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of her Sanative Wash did me more good than all the doctors' treatments and medicine.

"The first remark that greets me now is 'How much better you look!' and you may be sure I never hesitate to tell the cause of my health."—Mrs. E. J. GOODEN, ACKLEY, LA.

GUARD AGAINST DISEASE

Janesville's sanitary arrangements are not the best, and every care should be taken to remove all nuisances to the public health. If we had a sewerage system, many sources of disease would be done away with, but as we have none, we must do the next best thing—clean up the alleys, etc., and abate all nuisances that can be reached. This work should be done, and done thoroughly, before a freeze up occurs. There are a number of alleys in town—notably alongside the city hall, and in the rear of buildings on Milwaukee street—that can be found by a blind man who has not lost his other senses, at any time. They should be cleaned up. If the accumulations are allowed to lie until frost comes, their distinguishing characteristics may be temporarily done away with, but when a thaw comes these characteristics will be all the more marked—time will aid the fermentation and decay, and all that was bad in the start will be worse in the end.

There are a number of cases of contagious diseases in the city at the present time—more, perhaps, than is generally supposed. How many cases of illness can be traced to bad sanitary conditions? And if care is not taken, how many cases will be traced to some foul source before next June?

The matter is a serious one and should receive attention. If the nuisances are abated at once, present conditions will be greatly improved, while future sickness from such sources can be eliminated from the discussion.

"Cleanliness is next to Godliness," but filth is the parent of disease. We should not take any chances in matters that concern public health, especially when the cause can be removed with a few hours' work.

WHEELER TALKS SENSE

General Joseph Wheeler has decided to remain in the army, and will resign his seat in congress. In the letter in which he announced this decision he said:

"Congress, if it occupies the first day of the session in passing a resolution declaring in unmistakable that the sovereignty of the United States is to be maintained in the Philippines, thus dispelling Aguinaldo's delusion that anti-imperialists can assist him, will be performing a sacred duty. Such a resolution would save the lives of many American soldiers and of thousands of deluded Filipinos, would avert famine, suffering and desolation from these islands, and would render unnecessary the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars."

Gen. Wheeler speaks wisely. The hope of aid from the United States has been Aguinaldo's sole reliance for many weeks. If he is brought face to face with the fact that such aid will not be forthcoming, his troops would desert, and he would be left alone.

The New York Sun carries the thing too far when it demands that Admiral Schley be tried by a court of inquiry for disobeying the order to proceed, with the "flying squadron," to Santiago. True, Cervera might have escaped while Schley was dallying about on flimsy excuses, but isn't it better to let bygones be bygones? Schley's actions were, as Sampson said, "reprehensible," but Sampson himself is not above criticism, as his reports to the navy department were of an exceedingly flamboyant character. Schley's action hardly warrants an investigation at this late day. To give Schley credit that is due to Sampson is certainly unfair, but the New York Sun is as much a "fool friend of Sampson" as The Chicago Tribune is a "fool friend of Schley." Sampson deserves the major portion of the credit for the victory at Santiago, but it is not necessary to court martial Schley to prove it. The facts speak for themselves.

Chief Hogan and his men know their business and do good work; but they cannot be in two places at once. It is no reflection upon them to advocate the establishment of a police force. The system is at fault, not the men. Three men cannot do the work that would keep six or seven busy. There is no argument in referring to the dead-and-buried past. A thousand policemen could not prevent crime, but when a crime is committed a policeman is needed and there should be some means of getting one in short order.

Editor Gazette—I clip the following from a newspaper: "Near English, Ind., Jerry L. Suddarth, while hunting, killed a bird of a species unknown to those who have seen it. The bird has snow white feathers on its body, those on the back having a slight golden tinge. The beak is 7 inches long and almost as sharp as a needle. The beak is of a golden color, except toward the tip, where it is a steel gray. The eyes are yellow and the legs, which are as black as ink, are 23 inches long. When standing, the total height of the bird is 68 inches."

Was this bird a pudumuk?
CONSTANT READER.
No. We are surprised that you should think that the pudumuk is a bird. You should visit the ostrich farm at once, and thus guard against such humiliating experiences in the future.

No taxpayer will complain about his taxes if he gets value received, but all will complain if no benefits accrue from the expenditure. Five cents on each dollar paid in taxes will provide a suitable police force. Would it not be money well spent?

Is there another city in Wisconsin of Janesville's size that does not maintain a police force? Is there a city in Wisconsin half as large as Janesville that has as crude a police system? Not that we know of. Is there a lesson in these facts?

Better policeman cannot be found, but we do not have enough of them to give the people the kind of service that they should have.

When you do find a Janesville policeman, you find a man who is every inch an officer, but the problem is, to find him.

BIG JUDGMENT FOR JENKINS ESTATE

HON. A. P. LOVEJOY IS INTERESTED IN THE SUIT.

Reversal of Supreme Court of Decision in Case of James Jenkins' Estate, in Which the Milwaukee Circuit Court Failed for Three Years to Record Decision.

A decision has just been rendered in the supreme court in a suit which was started in the circuit court of Milwaukee county in 1894, and in which Judge Johnson failed to hand down his decision so that judgement could be entered, until September, 1898. The estate of James Jenkins brought suit against Edward Bradley of Milwaukee, Daniel Kelly of Green Bay, and A. P. Lovejoy of Janesville for $170,000. Mr. Jenkins was a prominent lumberman of Oshkosh and the suit was connected with the organization of the State Lumber company and 17,000 acres of pine land of which Mr. Jenkins owned one quarter and the defendants three quarters says The Milwaukee Sentinel. It afterwards developed that the defendants held one-quarter of the three-quarter interest on a mortgage only. This mortgage was put into the company in payment for $55,000 of its stock. Five years later Elijah Swift was determined by the courts to be the owner of the one-quarter interest subject to the mortgaged interest, which was equal to about $15,000.

The State Lumber company had to pay Swift for the one-quarter which he owed, and in the meantime the price of pine land had so advanced that the company had to pay him other $200,000 for the holding. The Jenkins heirs held that the defendants ought to put back all of this amount which was paid to Swift, and the Milwaukee circuit court so held and gave judgments against the defendants—Bradley, Kelly and Lovejoy—for their portions of the amount, together with the accumulated interest, which amounted to $170,000.

An appeal was taken to the supreme court, which holds that all the defendants have to put back is enough to make good their investment in the stock of the company—that is $55,000 less the $15,000 represented by their mortgage interest in the land, together with interest from 1892. The supreme court then determined that the Jenkins estate, holding about one fifth of the total amount of stock of the company, would be reimbursed if the defendants paid their respective proportions of this part of the unpaid subscriptions, with the interest accumulated, which the court holds is $85,070. The court therefore directs judgment against the three defendants for that amount reversing the judgment of the circuit court.

The case was started in June 1894. Judge Johnson announced his decision in 1895, but failed to write it out and place it on record so that judgment might be entered until September 1898. The case was argued in the supreme court last May as an appeal, and the decision as above was given last Friday.

BADGERS WHO WANT TO MAKE LAWS

WISCONSIN MEN WHO WOULD LIKE TO GO TO CONGRESS.

Certainty of Republican Success Cause of Early Campaign—The Democrats Are Indifferent and Inactive Since They Lost in Every District in the State.

The Milwaukee correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean sums up the Wisconsin Congressional situation, especially in the First, Second and Third districts as follows:

The republicans of Wisconsin will undoubtedly elect a full congressional ticket of ten men next year the same as they did last year, and as there is every indication that at this time the presidential ticket will, with McKinley at its head, be elected by a plurality of at least 75,000. The democrats may wake up between now and next summer but there is nothing to indicate that they will and it will not do them much good to hustle, as they fully realize. When every democrat on the congressional ticket was snowed under last year on the financial issue they seemed to give up all hope of ever recovering lost ground, and there has been no organization of the scattered factions.

Ninety-nine per cent of the members of that party who voted the Republican ticket on the silver question have either remained aloof from the organization or cut loose from it entirely. There has been no reconciliation anywhere. Men like Ed. Wall, Ellis Usher, and Senator Vilas are forever lost to democracy and they were leaders, while if space would permit columns of names could be printed of influential democrats like W. C. Leitch of Columbus, who have not only quit the silver party but entered the fighting ranks of their old opponents.

Cause of the Early Campaign.

The certainty of republican success in every district has resulted thus early in bringing to the front a host of candidates. So far as heard from there is no serious fault found with any of the ten Wisconsin congressmen. It is admitted that we have one of the best delegations we have ever had at Washington, but Wisconsin has just as many ambitious men as ever, and it would not be surprising if some of the present representatives would have to give way to men who have greater strength. H. A. Cooper will undoubtedly be reelected in the First district.

Perhaps H. B. Dahle, in the Second district, has the greatest reason of any of the ten congressmen to fear for the future. There is said to be a very able man in his district of the name of W. C. Leitch, who was, owing to his great popularity two years ago, a thorn in Dahle's side. Mr. Leitch was defeated in the convention that nominated Dahle by only four votes, and it is believed Leitch would have been chosen had it not been for the fact that he had been a democrat up to the time of the silver convention at Chicago. He left the democrats bag and baggage when his party went into the silver business, took the stump for the republican ticket, and has been counted a warhorse ever since, being elected mayor of his city—Columbus—and having a following made up not only of all the republicans in his district, but of a large number of men, who, like himself, left the Bryanites on account of 16 to 1.

Contest In Babcock's District.

There is a good deal of talk about a contest for Mr. Babcock's seat, and there are at least three men who may go in the convention against him in the Third district. They are C. J. Smith of Viroqua, R. D. Evans of Baraboo, and C. H. Baxter, of Lancaster. Messrs. Smith and Evans are lawyers, and Mr. Baxter is a lumberman. The latter is known as the "watch-dog" of the legislature, being chairman of the joint committee on claims. He opposed Mr. Babcock before, but the latter demonstrated in a pinch that he is the most popular man in his district, being a practical campaigner and having the benefit of long experience in national committee work. Mr. Babcock is certainly fully as popular at home as he ever has been, and has represented not only the Third district but the entire state with distinguished honor, being as well known in the far East or West as any man in congress.

To Shock Stowell Wells.

An electric heater has been devised, which, it is hoped, will make used up oil wells as good as new. The common theory of exhaustion of wells is that the oil in passing upward has so clogged the porous stone with paraffine that further flow is stopped. Some think that it is because the supply in the earth has given out, but the generally accepted idea is that the oil is still in abundance. The stone through which the oil passes is of a porous nature, and as the liquid is in a crude state the dregs settle in the rock. It has been common to use torpedoes to shatter the stone, thus breaking up the clogged matter, but this is expensive. The new electric heater melts out the paraffine.

FOOTBALL CLIMAX THANKSGIVING DAY

GREAT INTEREST IN THE WISCONSIN-MICHIGAN GAME.

College Rivalry in the East Has Never Reached Such a Limit—Excursions from Wisconsin Will Be Numerous—Over 150 Will Go from Rock County.

In the west the climax in football comes Thursday and the unusual sight of four college teams preparing to play inside our city limits on the same day presents itself. Never before in the history of the game have four teams held forth on the same day in Chicago, and the innovation is exceptional for any city. College rivalry in the east has never reached such a limit and followers of the game will watch the result with more than a passing notice.

There has been no marked hostility between the managers of Michigan and Wisconsin on one hand and Chicago and Brown on the other, but both are bending all their efforts to secure the largest patronage. Never before has advertising of both managements been carried out on such a large scale and each side is apprehensive that the other will have more rosters.

Rivalry Among College Men
The wisdom of the procedure has been questioned by those who follow the game for the pure sport, but it cannot be gainsaid that a tremendous amount of interest has been worked up among college men and also among those who are only indirectly interested in the welfare of one or the other contestants.

Excursions from both Michigan and Wisconsin will be numerous. Practically all of the excursions which will be run to Chicago will be in the interest of the Michigan-Wisconsin game.

From the present outlook it seems as if 30,000 people will see the pigskin abused on turkey day. The state universities' managements are making preparations for $15,000; and Horace Butterworth of the University of Chicago, thinks an equal number of spectators will be on the Marshall field.

Both managements have found some difficulty in securing officials for games. It now seems probable that Jim Rodgers of Yale, will be one of the officials in the Michigan-Wisconsin game. Chicago and Brown have agreed on Walter McCormack as one of the officials, but no conclusions have been reached on the other.

Good Sport Is Expected.
From reports it seems as if the two games would furnish better sport than has ever been seen in the west on Thanksgiving day. Both contests promise to be close and fierce. On the west side Michigan and Wisconsin meet, and at present the wolverines reign slight favorites. Critics claim that Michigan has a stronger line, and if this is the case there should be no particular trouble about its defense. In McLean the wolverines have one of the surest ground gainers in the west, if not in the country.

Wisconsin will go into the game with O'Dea behind the line and the terrific punts of the slim Australian are banked upon to decide the game in the badger's favor. Keena of Michigan, is a fair punter and a better line backer than O'Dea, so the two go into the game on fairly even terms.

At least 150 from Rock county will attend the Wisconsin Michigan game at Chicago on Thanksgiving day.

TO WORK FOR FREE COINAGE.

American Knights of Silver Incorporated at Denver for That Purpose.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 27.—The American Knights of Silver filed articles of incorporation here Saturday. Ostensibly the purpose of the society is to promote the social welfare of its members, but its primary aim is to unite all those persons who desire the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the consent of any other nation. An admission fee of $2 is charged, with a per capita tax of 5 cents a month, payable in advance. Fifty cents for each member is given to the national organization to defray the expenses of preparing the literature and distribution. 50 cents is retained by the local lodge for current expenses, and $1 goes to the national body for organization purposes. The advisory board includes Senator Teller, ex-Congressman Towne, Gov. Thomas and Congressman Bell.

CURRENCY BILL IS READY.

Republican Caucus Committee Meets to Consider the Measure.

Washington, Nov. 27.—An informal meeting of the republican caucus committee of the house, for the preparation of a currency bill, was held last night. The main provisions of the measure were agreed upon at Atlantic City last summer, and Representative Overstreet of Indiana had been charged with the duty of drawing up the bill in detail. He presented it at the meeting, and it was gone over carefully. The members present were well satisfied with the bill, and no changes were made in its contents. It will be presented to the house caucus at the earliest opportunity—probably next Saturday night, when the caucus meets to select officers for the house.

Beat a pint of milk boiling hot and in it a large tablespoonful of butter; pour the boiling milk over the other ingredients and mix well, cover the bowl with a plate and set it back on the range for three or four hours to dissolve, stirring occasionally and being careful it does not cook. Half an hour before supper butter a nice pie plate and pour into it the mixture; set it in a quick oven and brown, sending it to table very hot. This depends for its success on being quite smooth and the cheese all dissolved.

SHERIFF APPLEBY AFTER BANK THIEVES

MAKES HURRIED TRIP TO CITY OF CHICAGO.

Leaves Janesville at Four O'Clock in the Morning—Police Are Working on Valuable Clues—Milton Bank Affair Was Undoubtedly the Work of Crooks in the Windy City.

Sheriff W. H. Appleby has been in Chicago during the past two days following clues that may soon lead to the arrest of the robbers who entered the bank of Milton. Information of a valuable nature has been in the hands of the police since the hold crime was committed.

That the robbery was the work of professionals well informed in the business was quite evident to the police from the start. That these same robbers made their way to this city with a horse and buggy and from here made their way to Chicago by train, is no longer a question. Friday night Sheriff Appleby received a message that brought him to Chicago at the first opportunity which was the four o'clock train Saturday morning.

Detectives in Chicago have been on the alert since the robbery and believe that Chicago crooks are responsible for the crime, and that the guilty parties will soon be apprehended.

FREDERICK O'BRIEN PLEADS NOT GUILTY

CASE CALLED THIS MORNING AND ADJOURNED.

Represented by Attorney John Cunningham—Ball of the Alleged Dynamiter Remains at Seven Hundred—The Prisoner Says That His Age is Twenty-Two Years.

Frederick O'Brien pleaded not guilty this morning to the charge of assault with intent to kill Frank O'Brien, Nora O'Brien, Winnie O'Brien, Virgil O'Brien and Willie O'Brien.

When arranged in the municipal court at 10 o'clock the prisoner waived the reading of the information. He was represented by his attorney, John Cunningham. The court then adjourned the case till December 4 at 2 o'clock and in default of $700 the defendant was remanded to jail.

When the case was called the room was filled with curiosity seekers. Relatives of the prisoner were on hand in goodly numbers including the wife of the defendant. O'Brien is twenty-two years of age and does not look the part of a man who would blow his wife into eternity with dynamite.

He reminds one more of a school boy and in all probability is not half as bad a man as some people would like to make him out to be.

The prisoner had trouble with his wife several weeks ago and she left him and went to the home of her uncle, Frank O'Brien, on Western avenue. Her husband tried to induce her to return to him, but not succeeding he went to a gunsmith's and purchased a half-pound dynamite cartridge, which he is alleged to have placed on the front porch of his uncle's house, at 2 o'clock in the morning, Nov. 17, and igniting the fuse, ran away. The explosion was terrific, being heard all over the city. The house was partially wrecked, all of the windows being broken, as well as the crockery and the furniture.

EVANS DENIES SCHLEY STORY

Says in Lurid Words Report He Is to Make Them Is False

Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.—In its issue Saturday the Army and Navy Journal says:

"We are reliably informed that no charges are yet on file at the department against Admiral Schley. We are told, however, that Captain Robley D. Evans has drawn charges against him and has held them for some time, but so far has not presented them to the secretary, though they have been shown to sympathizers in the attack on Admiral Schley. It remains to be seen whether they will be presented to the department."

Late last night "Fighting Bob" was seen and denounced the whole story in picturesque language, saying he had never made such charges, never written them, and had no intention of mixing in the controversy in any way.

AGED FARMER'S WIFE NEAR DEATH'S DOOR.

Pail of Blazing Varnish Ignited Her Clothes—Her Flesh Peeled Off in Chunks—The Accident Took Place Saturday, Ten Miles West of the City.

Mrs. Isabelle Roat is now lying at the point of death at her home in the town of Center as the result of being badly burned.

Saturday she attempted to remove a pail of burning varnish from the top of a red hot stove when flames suddenly burst forth enveloping her clothes. She fought as best she could against a terrible death and succeeded in extinguishing finally the last spark but not until the cruel flames had done terrible execution.

When Mrs. Roat attempted to remove her burned clothes her flesh peeled off in chunks. Her limbs were frightfully scorched.

Physicians were summoned from Footville and the injured lady was made as comfortable as possible.

At the time of the accident Mrs. Roat was alone. She was vacillating furniture and wanted to thin out the varnish by heating it. Mrs. Roat is about seventy years of age and has a daughter residing in Janesville. At a late hour this afternoon the injured lady was alive.

STREET CAR INJURES PATRICK COLLINS

CRASHES INTO HIS BUGGY THIS MORNING.

Mr. Collins Badly Cut About the Head, But Will Recover—Was a Narrow Escape from Death Beneath Cruel Wheels—Was Taken to the Office of Dr. James Mills.

Patrick Collins, 105 Holmes street, had a narrow escape from being killed this morning at the corner of High and and Milwaukee streets. At 11:30 o'clock a west bound electric street car crashed into Mr. Collins' buggy. The vehicle was tossed to one side of the road as if it had been a stick of wood.

Mr. Collins was thrown heavily to the ground. He struck the pavement with considerable force badly cutting his face in several places. His head was injured as was also his nose and one of his eyes. The aged man was taken to the office of Dr. James Mills where his injuries were dressed. He was then conveyed home. Bystanders who witnessed the accident were soon to the rescue and prevented Mr. Collins horse from raising havoc.

Mr. Collins no doubt owes his life to the fact that he did not fall in front of the car. When he went to cross the track he failed to notice the approach of the car till too late to avoid an accident. A switch is located near where the accident took place and the car at the time was not running at a fast rate of speed. Mr. Collins is one of the pioneer residents of Janesville, and is a man held in the highest esteem.

CUBANS BECOMING RESTIVE.

Nationalists Hostile to Proposed Civil Government.

OUR POLICY IS CRITICISED.

Political Leaders Address a Large Meeting at Havana in Behalf of Complete Independence—Appointment of a Foreigner as Bishop Opposed.

Havana, Nov. 27.—Five thousand delegates of the Cuban league and National party Sunday, held to express opposition to civil government. Prominent speakers hinted that Cubans were still ready to fight for complete independence. Senor Borges, who was one of the principal speakers, said:

"Cuba has passed through many throes, but possibly there are more bitter agonies yet to be endured. When those who are managing our affairs from abroad think, either from design or error, of instituting a civil government among us, and when a foreigner is appointed bishop of Havana, Cubans need calm judgment. Why is it that so many of our leading literary and professional men hold back from our patriotic platforms, while at the same time declaring themselves patriots? These are the men who would have to direct the government of the country. They would reap the harvest of independence. Perhaps they are selfish; perhaps they are too proud; perhaps they prefer leaving the hard work to workingmen like myself.

"The United States is a great and magnanimous nation. The Americans have helped the Cubans in their time of need, but it is yet to be shown that they are as generous as at first they seemed. There have been Cubans who died in the hope of securing independence, and there are Cubans who are ready to imitate their example."

Senor Gonzales said: "Cubans must not break the law by appealing to arms to settle this question of civil government. By such a course they would merely gratify those who wish to show to the world that Cubans cannot respect law."

Senor Zenas: "We Cubans watch over independence like parents over a sick child. It is but natural that we should not forget our many sleepless nights. There is naught for us to do but to finish our work and to secure independence."

The veterans, who constitute the body from which trouble would be most likely to arise, are pronounced against a civil governorship in any form. The various centers are making their objections and passing resolutions which call upon the United States congress to grant absolute independence to Cuba.

The Lucha says that the veterans do not represent Cuba. To this charge they reply that, although not representing financial interests, they certainly do represent the element upon whose stability the future form of government will largely depend for its success.

Senor Varona says: "Many Cubans think decentralization will cure the present evils of government, as being the reverse of the old centralized order of affairs. In my judgment the remedy would be as bad as the disease."

Memorial to Mr. Hobart.

Paterson, N. J., Nov. 27.—This city is soon to have a memorial of its distinguished citizen, Garret A. Hobart. The general committee in charge of the reception of distinguished Americans who were in attendance at the funeral on Saturday received such liberal contributions from residents for the expense of caring for the visitors that it finds itself with a considerable fund still in hand. It is proposed to use this fund for a Hobart memorial, which will likely consist of a mammoth and appropriate window in the city hall. To the funds left over from the funeral will probably be added $2,000, which is in the bank as a surplus from the centennial celebration of 1892, and for which a use had not previously been decided upon. These moneys will be used as a nucleus for the fund for a Hobart memorial.

LONDON'S WATER.

Comparisons to Show the Volume of Its Daily Consumption.

In 1894 the astounding total of 192,000,000 gallons a day was reached by the combined water companies of London, says Good Word. This was supplied to the five and a half million inhabitants at the rate of, say, thirty-two gallons a head for all purposes. These figures represent an enormous volume of water, though small when compared with the mighty river that flows into old Rome. We can only deal with the figures roughly; the supply fluctuates to a considerable degree at different times in the year; it is, therefore, not possible to be mathematically accurate. Allowing for a slight increase since the last return, and taking in other sources, to which I shall refer a little later, we may pretty safely put the present London water supply at about 200,000,000 gallons a day. Let us try for a moment to realize what these figures mean. With 200,000,000 gallons of water we could fill a lake a mile long, a quarter of a mile wide and five feet deep. The water in it would weigh nearly a million tons. This lake would stretch from the Bank of Church, yet it would be emptied in a single day to assuage the thirst of London. Or suppose we could freeze all this water, we could build up a great block of ice a thousand feet long, a thousand feet wide and thirty-two feet high. If we allow for the expansion of freezing, the block would, of course, be still larger. Sixty-five of the largest ironclads in the British navy could float in the water we use every day in London. When we come to compare our supply with the mighty torrent of Niagara we belittle it. The water goes thundering over the falls at the rate of two million tons a minute, or four hundred and twenty million gallons. Our whole daily supply would be whirled over long before the second hand of a watch would have traveled once round the dial. And could we divert the magnificent torrent for only three hours we could supply London with water for a whole year at the present rate. Niagara is a big thing.

Garnet Powder.

New York Tribune: An abundance of garnet, suitable for grinding into powder for abrasive purposes, but not for jewelry, is found in Essex county, New York. A peak called Garnet peak, northwest from Bald Eagle, in the Adirondacks, is being mined. This article is not quite so hard as corundum, but does excellent work.

ALASKA'S
GOLDEN SANDS.How the Wonderfully Rich
Beach Diggings at Cape
Nome Were Discovered.

By C. T. Baxter.

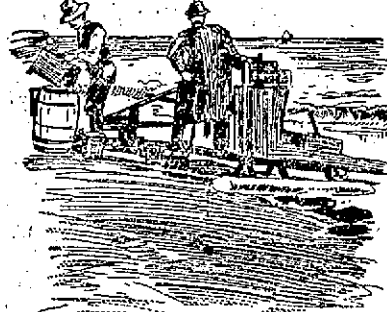

Nothing stranger in the history of mining is found than the romance of the golden sands of Cape Nome. Down from the low mountains bordering on Bering sea and the Arctic Ocean come several small streams which empty their snow fed waters into the salt waves near Cape Nome. It has been discovered that at the mouths of each of these streams the sands are freighted with a deposit of gold. Washing this precious sand out of the sands are now about 3,000 men.

Wild reports of the wealth which has been taken from the Cape Nome beach have been circulated. Some of them are undoubtedly exaggerations. But there is no denying the fact that nearly $1,000,000 in gold has been brought down from this new El Dorado within the past few months. Assayer Wing of Seattle says that at least $400,000 worth of Cape Nome gold has been deposited with him during the present fall.

Where did the gold come from? Where is the "mother lode" from which these streams were away the precious metal? Is it in the low hills back from the bleak coast, or is it in some unknown spot far in the almost inaccessible interior of Alaska? The man who solves this riddle will make for himself and others a princely fortune.

Only this much is known: The offspring of this "mother lode" are the placers of Snake river, Nome river, Anvil creek and a score of other streams which empty into the sea 135 miles north of St. Michael's and 200 miles northwest of the Yukon's mouth. The first gold was found in August, 1898, by three illiterate Swede sailors. Their discoveries were of such richness and extent that the whole district bordering Norton sound, as far as Cape Clarence, went wild over them. But it was not until July of this year that the marvelously rich placer deposits in the beach along the sea was made.

The discoverers of the Cape Nome district were Peter Lindenberg, John Lindbloom and Johan Brandson. The first two were sailors on the whaler Alaska. Becoming dissatisfied with their lot, in August, 1898, they deserted.

WORKING BEACH CLAIMS AT CAPE NOME.

landing on the beach near Cape Nome, on Norton sound. They hid for a few days and then were taken into camp, hungry and worn, by a tribe of Eskimos. A few days later they canoed up the Snake river on a little prospecting trip.

The result was that Lindenberg and Lindbloom found gold bearing gravel on a shallow bedrock on the bed of a creek entering Snake river. They rocked out over $5,000 on the second day, when they had laid out their claims. They kept their secret for a few days, brought in some of their countrymen from Port Clarence and then organized the district. Since that day they have located claims all over the district, which is 30 miles square.

The romance about Cape Nome, however, lies in the discovery of gold in the beach sands. In June, this year, the camp numbered not over 300 people. Late in the month steamers from Dawson brought hundreds of miners down the Yukon bound "outside," having found mining in the interior unprofitable. They camped in tents on the beach at Nome, waiting for the steamers to take them to Seattle. Half of them had barely enough money to pay their passage. The rest were preparing to work their way to this city.

One day one of the miners in a tent accidentally found gold colors in the sand beneath his tent. He seized a pan, and with the sea water panned a dozen pans full of the dirt. The deeper he went into the moist beach the higher grew the number of colors. In an hour's work he found a pay streak, with pans averaging 10 to 15 cents. That settled it. The next day sluice boxes and men with pans and shovels were thick on the beach as flies around a molasses barrel in a country store.

For weeks the beach fairly swarmed with men. All made wages of $5 up to $80 per day. All who were working at work on the beach. The steamers that came from Seattle with miners bound for Dawson, for the Koyukuk, Tanana and Forty Mile districts, landed their passengers at Nome. Soon the country was staked for miles.

When the news got to Seattle there was a grand rush from Seattle and other ports on the Pacific slope. Now Cape Nome is a mushroom city on the beach where the talk is all of gold.

A SENATOR'S BRIDE.

She Inspired Him to Write a Poem
Which He Regrets.

It was all due to a poem that the recent marriage of Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska has attracted widespread attention. The senator wrote the poem. It is said that Miss Lola Purman, the young woman who is now Mrs. Thurston, was the person to whom the poem was addressed.

The story goes that Senator Thurston met Miss Purman last winter at a box party which he gave in Washington. During the evening Miss Purman gave the senator a white rose. The senator went home and wrote a very sentimental poem which he called "Oh, Rose, Sweet Rose!" In an unguarded moment he read the poem at a banquet, and one of the guests wrote it down. During the recent campaign in Nebraska Senator Thurston's political enemies printed the poem, giving him full credit for the authorship, and more than two dozen parodies were circulated.

But the senator doesn't care now. He has his bride. Miss Purman is a native of Florida. Her father was a civil war veteran from Pennsylvania who settled in Florida after the war and represented the Tallahassee district in congress for one term. Miss Purman is attractive without being a beautiful woman. She is about 25, tall, rather slender, with light brown hair and eyes. She has a fine soprano voice. She has lived in Washington for nearly five years and has a number of friends in the highest official circles. She has traveled extensively in the United States and abroad. She is the eldest of three daughters. Senator Thurston is 52 years old and one of the social lions of Washington.

A TRUE BRITON.

British Ambassador's Daughter, Who Is Soon to Wed.

One of the most brilliant social events in Washington during the coming season will be the marriage of the daughter of Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador. The young lady is Miss Lillian Pauncefote, and she will be the first ambassador's daughter to be married in our national capital. But Washington must seem almost like home to the Pauncefotes, for they have lived there for the last 10 years.

Miss Lillian is one of four daughters of the British ambassador. The Misses Maud and Violet are older. Miss Audrey is the youngest. They are all charming girls and have enjoyed Washington society greatly. At the same time they are intensely English, and although they have received much attention from many Washington gallants, they have remained single.

The young man whom Miss Lillian is to make happy is a thorough Briton.

MISS LILLIAN PAUNCEFOTE.

He is Mr. Robert Bromley and holds the post of honorary secretary to the British embassy.

The date of the wedding has been set for Feb. 22, Washington's birthday. It was selected by Miss Pauncefote without thought as to its being a holiday, but when she found it out she was delighted with the idea.

The ceremony will occur in the spacious and luxuriously furnished rooms of the British embassy. The president, with all the members of the cabinet and the entire diplomatic corps, will attend the ceremony. As a social event it will eclipse anything of the kind that has been held in Washington for years.

The Old Man Knew.

Her late Parent (to youth who has tarried late of an evening)—Young man, do you know it is past 11 o'clock? The Tarrying Youth—Yes, sir. But she has been sitting on my hat for the past two hours, and I didn't want to tell her.

Trate Parent—Then hereafter don't keep your hat on your lap. Hang it on the peg in the hall.—Philadelphia Call.

A rich man died the other day. He died in the very misadventure of life, and he left his family $1,000,000.

The doctor's certificate showed that death resulted from typhoid fever. The doctor himself said to a friend: "That man was a suicide."

He had a splendid constitution. I could have pulled him through if his stomach had been sound. But he ruined his stomach by hasty meals, snatched in intervals of business and warning him a year past, that his stomach was failing in its duties."

The symptoms of a disordered condition of the stomach and the organs of digestion and nutrition are, among others, variable appetite, sour risings, heartburn, undue fullness after eating, dull headache, dingy complexion, discolored eye, fluctuations in physical strength, nervousness, sleeplessness, despondency. No one person will have all these symptoms at once, but any one of them calls for prompt aid for the suffering stomach.

The restoration of the stomach, digestive and nutritive organs to a condition of sound health, begins with the first dose of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The cure progresses from that dose until the functions of the stomach and its related organs are in healthy operation. Then the nerves are quiet, the appetite healthful, the sleep restful, the eye bright, the complexion clear. In one word the body is in a condition of perfect health.

"I was troubled with indigestion about two years," writes Wm. Bowker, Esq., of Julietta, Latah Co., Idaho. "I tried different doctors and remedies but to no avail, until I wrote to you and you told me what to do. I suffered with a pain in my stomach and left side and thought that it would kill me. Now I am glad to write this and let you know that I am all right. I can do my work now without pain and I don't have that tired feeling that I used to have. Five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and two vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets' cured me."

Don't let the dealer sell you a substitute, if you want a cure. Insist on having "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets surpass all complexion powders. They make the skin healthy and the complexion clear.

SEVEN MILES OF OLD CARS.

Convicts in Wyoming Breaking Up Worn-Out Railroad Material.

Seven miles of condemned material is a long-drawn-out affair even for the west. But it stands as a western growth near the state penitentiary at Laramie, Wyo., where convicts are daily engaged in making it an ever-lengthening fact. For many months the inspectors of the Union Pacific railroad have scrutinized the thousands of freight cars that handle the overland traffic. When a debilitated car of low capacity or unequipped with air brakes rattled past it was branded as condemned, and, if empty, was shunted off on the side track built to be a last refuge for the doomed cars. This process continued for months till the cars, averaging thirty feet in length, reached a total length of seven miles.

This distance was ascertained by local statisticians, who, in the interests of railroad history, pedaled their bicycles along the line and measured it with their cyclometers. These cars are humpbacked, swaybacked and contorted in every conceivable way, but they still hold themselves erect with a kind of melancholy dignity. They have had careers varying from eight to twelve years, and since their building a score of changes have taken place in car construction. Their capacity is often as low as 18,000 pounds, whereas the modern car is from 40,000 to 60,000 pounds capacity. The brake mechanism for the freight car has come to be as complicated as was that of the passenger car thirty years ago, and inventions applying to doors, ventilation and running gear make the old-time cars most pronounced "back numbers."

A contract between railroad and state calls for the demolition of these cars by the convicts, the wood going to the penitentiary, where it will keep the state's charges warm this winter, and the scrap iron returning to the railroad shops, whence it will issue in due time in the form of new railway material.

Catarrh is Not Incurable

But it can not be cured by sprays, washes and inhaling mixtures which reach only the surface. The disease is in the blood, and can only be reached through the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which can have any effect upon Catarrh; it cures the disease permanently and forever rids the system of every trace of the vile complaint.

Miss Josie Owen, of Montpelier, Ohio, writes: "I was afflicted from infancy with Catarrh, and no one can know the suffering it produces better than I. The sprays and washes prescribed by the doctors relieved me only temporarily, and though I used them constantly for ten years, the disease had a firmer hold than ever. I tried a number of blood remedies, but their mineral ingredients settled in my bones and gave me rheumatism. I was in a lamentable condition, and after exhausting all treatment, was declared incurable. Seeing S. S. S. advertised as a cure for blood diseases, I decided to try it. As soon as my system was under the effect of the medicine, I began to improve, and after taking it for two months I was cured completely, the dreadful disease was eradicated from my system, and I have had no return of it."

Many have been taking local treatment for years, and find themselves worse now than ever. A trial of will prove it to be the right remedy for Catarrh. It will cure the most obstinate case.
